	The school physician shall make a preliminary recommendation to the district as to the health risks associated with diagnosed communicable disease. In the event that potential health risks to the school community would be identified by the school physician due to the admission or continued attendance of the student in question, a panel shall be convened to review the medical history and assess the specific health risks to the identified student and to the school community. Prior to the panel's assessment and recommendation as to health risks, the Superintendent may preliminarily exclude the child from the educational program based upon the school physician's previous recommendation and after the Superintendent has consulted with the student's parents or guardian and personal physician. The Board shall name an administrator to coordinate the district's response to the issue; the administrator shall convene the panel. The panel shall consist of: the coordinating administrator, school physician, school nurse, family physician, parent, and appropriate local health official. The panel shall make an assessment of the potential for transmission of the communicable disease to the school community and the risks associated with potential infection. The panel shall utilize as a resource the Centers for Disease Control Guidelines on Education of Children infected with such communicable diseases. Within ten (10) days the panel shall make a recommendation to the Superintendent regarding the attendance of the student. The Superintendent shall promptly make a final decision on attendance or alternate placement of the student. The panel, at the request of the administrator, shall meet periodically to assess the recommendations as to attendance. The administrator assigned to coordinate the district's response under this policy shall be responsible for organizing and presenting information on communicable diseases, including AIDS, to the school community and general public as necessary to implement such plan.
